Proposals

FOR Publishing by Subscription, and now ready for the press, a series of historical volumes, which when finished will assume the title of Universal History Americanised; Or, an historical view of Europe, Asia, Africa and America, from the earliest records to the nineteenth century—with a particular reference to the state of society, literature, religion, and form of government in the United States of America. BY DAVID RAMSAY, M. D. "Life is so short and time so valuable, that it were happy for us if all great works were reduced to their quintessence." Sir William Jones. PROSPECTUS. ASIA. The Asiatic part of this work contains a general view of the antediluvians—of the general deluge—of the re-settlement of the Globe after that great event—of the primitive postdiluvian nations which were formed in Asia, the cradle of the world. Their various ramifications, revolutions, and of the general course of Empire.

AFRICA.

The African part contains a concise history of Egypt, Carthage, Numidia, Mauritania, Abyssinia, of the Ethical States, and the Hottentots, with a grouped view of its uncivilized settlements.

EUROPE.

The European part contains the history of Greece and Rome, from their origin to their dissolution—of the various nations which were conquered by them—and of the nations by which the Romans themselves were finally conquered, and of the nations which were formed from the fragments of the Roman Empire, and the various revolutions of the latter, together with a view of the nations which never were subjected to the Romans.

AMERICA.

The American part contains a general history of the Western continent, under the heads of Free, European, and Aborigine or unconquered America. The first contains a history of the United States, from their first settlement as English Colonies, till the present time.—The second, of all parts dependent on Europe.—And the third, of all that are still owned by the Aborigines. It is expected that the whole will be comprised in 10 or 12 octavo volumes; of between four and five hundred pages each—to be printed in Philadelphia, on good paper and fair types, for $3 1-3 per volume, in sheep binding; or $4 1-3 Calf Gilt, to be paid for on delivery.

AUTHORITIES.

This work has been in contemplation upwards of 40 years. The project of it was conceived in 1786, on reading the Universal History, then recently edited in 60 volumes, by a society of gentlemen in England. The original idea of extracting the quintessence of that voluminous work, which contained the most complete system of history the world had then seen, has ever since been enlarging and improving by an attentive perusal of the histories written by Robertson, Hume, Gibbon, and other modern authors—of the Asiatic researches—of the works of Sir William Jones, and other learned Orientalists—the publications of intelligent travellers, who, in the course of the last half century have explored almost every region of the Globe. These collectively have thrown a blaze of light on countries comparatively unknown, and on portions, both of ancient and modern history which were confused and obscure at the period when the writers of the Universal History published their work. The arrangement of materials collected from these sources commenced in the year 1789, when, in consequence of the surrender of Charleston to Sir Henry Clinton, the author was suddenly released from a sea of business and sent as a prisoner of war to the British Garrison then in St. Augustine, and there confined for eleven months, without any peculiar employment. Steady progress has been made for the last ten years in correcting and transcribing the work for publication.

UNITED STATES.

The History of the United States is given at full length—that of foreign countries is more or less expended or contracted in proportion to the intrinsic importance of each—its tendency to illustrate portions of Holy Writ—the Greek and Latin Classics—and also in proportion to its connexion with the U. States, or as furnishing useful practical information to its citizens, or as the paternal soil of their ancestors.

The above sketch of the nature and objects of this immense work, which has occupied the attention of the Author for upwards of 40 years, was found among his papers, and is now given to the public in his own words. Since that period, a few chapters have been added by the Reverend SAMUEL STANHOPE SMITH, which brings it down to the close of the last war.

The publication commences with a third impression of the History of the U. States, in three volumes, which is all that has ever appeared. The whole will not be delivered under 15 or 20 months. It is proper to state, that the gentlemen who have the direction of it are neither booksellers nor printers, and receive no pecuniary consideration for their trouble—but are willing to make the necessary advances to carry it into execution provided the sale is warranted by public patronage. The profits arising are to be appropriated for the support and education of his children, four of each sex; to them its success is a matter of deep importance.

For the prevention and cure of ILLIUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended HENRY'S ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons has been adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak in favour of a medicine than eons of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion. It is not indeed presumptuously pressed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases its use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases seemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age. They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and could be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Hamilton's Elixir,

A sovereign remedy for colds, obstructions, coughs, asthma, sore throats, catarrhs, and approaching consumptions—to parents who have children afflicted with the HOOPING COUGH, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorders to which children are liable. The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

Hamilton's Grand Restorative,

Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of Nervous Disorders, Violent cramps in Consumptions, the stomach and bowels of spirits, back, loss of appetite, Indigestion, impurity of blood, Melancholy, Hysterical affection, Gout in the stomach and bowels, Pains in the limbs and debility, Relaxations, etc.

Hamilton's Essence and Extract of Mustard.

A safe and effectual remedy for acute and chronic rheumatism, gout, rheumatic palsy, lumbago, numbness, white swellings, chilblains, sprains, bruises, pain in the face and neck, etc. etc.

Lee's Ointment for the Itch.

Warranted an infallible remedy at one application, may be used with perfect safety by pregnant women, or on infants a week old, not containing a particle of mercury or any dangerous ingredient whatever, and not accompanied with that tormenting smart which attends the application of other remedies.

Hahn's true & genuine German Corn Plaster.

An infallible remedy for corns, speedily removing them root and branch, without giving any pain.

The Genuine Persian Lotion,

So celebrated among the fashionable throughout Europe, is an invaluable cosmetic, perfectly innocent and safe, free from corrosive and repellent minerals, the basis of other lotions, and of unparalleled efficacy in removing blemishes of the face and skin, freckles, pimples, inflammatory redness, scurfs, tetter, ringworms, sunburns, prickly heat, &c.

Hahn's genuine Eye Water,

A sovereign remedy for all diseases of the eyes, whether the effect of natural weakness or of accident.

Tooth Ache Drops.

The only remedy yet discovered which gives immediate and lasting relief in the most severe instances.

Lee's Infallible Ague and Fever Drops

For the cure of agues, remittent and intermittent fevers.

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND DAILY ADVERTISER.

PUBLISHED BY
SAMUEL SNOWDEN,
ROYAL STREET.

Daily Gazette 5¢ Country Gazette 25¢
MONDAY, APRIL 27, 1818.

From the Richmond Enquirer.

In the following beautiful Effusion our readers will recognize the Pencil of Miss Henning, of Virginia, the Authoress of the Christmas Ode we had the honor of presenting to the public a few weeks since. If we can anticipate the feelings of our Patrons from any analogy of our own, they will be glad to escape for a few moments from the turbulent atmosphere of political controversy, to enjoy with this "Arcadian Nymph," the Elysian Fields of Poetic Inspiration.

"Largior hic campos aether, et lumine vestit insperato."
In a letter to her Uncle in Kentucky, who has politely favored us with a copy of the Ode, the fair Authoress makes the following modest and appropriate preface to this "relaxation of her leisure hours."

"The subject which I have selected, has already employed the talents of an eminent poet, (Athenian) and as he has gathered in the rich harvest which it presented to the sickle of his genius, I must, like Ruth of old, be content to collect the scattered ears, not however expecting the same result to my employment as that which attended the labors of my fair I-mad predecessor."
[Mrs. Argus.]

ODE TO IMAGINATION.
Oh thou! whose power inspires the minstrel's song,
And nourishes the tide of tuneful verse along,
Whose rapid wings through ether speed their flight,
While earth extended lies beneath thy feet;
Send one bright beam of that celestial blaze,
That round thy brow in dazzling light—
One ray, to gild the gloom of mental night,
And burst its shroud with thy refulgent light.

By thee each scene, that meets the gazing view,
Is clothed in beauty's bright attractive hue;
'Tis thine to wake the bold exalted thought,
With splendid grace, with mental ardor
The lofty strain of eloquence is thine,
By thee its torrent rolls, its beauties shine:
Thy power directs the mind's adventurous flight,
And guides its course to grandeur's lofty height.

'Tis thine fair beauty's brightest forms to trace,
Adorned with charms and rich in every grace,
By thee the painter's mimic canvass shows,
A youthful form where each attraction flows,
By thee the eye its seeming lustre sheds,
By thee the rose the snowy cheek o'er-
grows;
Till to the night the lovely semblance
A living goddess, sung in faded themes
Nor does the strain whose headlong torrent falls,
While sounding echoes strike the lofty shore,
Nor Venus robed in heavenly charms alone,
The potent magic of thine influence own.
Of thee thy visions cheered the drooping breast,
By anguish pierced, by gloomy cares opprest,
A while suppressed the deep complaining sigh,
And wipe the tear from sorrow's streaming eye.

The lonely exile, forced afar to roam,
And leave for ever his lov'd home,
Though foreign scenes to meet his view
By thee transported, sees his native sky,
Each scene, that gave his youthful heart delight,
Again re-lives his fond enraptured sight,
And friend-like voices, which once he loved to hear,
In tender accents meet his listening ear.

But who can tell how wide thine influence reigns?
The weary captive, bound in galling chains,
Cheered by thy light, forgets his dungeon's gloom,
And seems to gaze on Nature's vernal bloom.
The leafy grove, the blue ethereal sky,
The flowery field, delights his wondering eye,
While nature's music breathes its thrilling strain,
And on his ear in melting sweetness flows.

Fair queen of visions! I invoke thine aid,
Whose wondrous power, what strain has e'er displayed?
For who can trace thy wild eccentric Or paint of mental light the lovely source?
As well might art with feeble skill essay
To paint the warm enlivening orb of day,
With mimic hues its sparkling beams to light,
And pour its radiance on the aching sight!

Even though I gained that mountain's faded height,
Where music breathes the soul of warm delight,
I'd ask not power thy wondrous might to sing,
So far beyond my thought's sublimest wing,
But send a beam of that celestial blaze,
That round thy brow in dazzling lustre plays,
One ray to gild the gloom of mental night,
And burst its shroud with thy refulgent light.

ALEXANDRIA: MONDAY, APRIL 27, 1818.

FOR THE ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE.

In nothing is the advancement of this country in elegant literature so perceptible, as in the improvement of style and the general taste for composition exhibited for some time past by our writers of every description. Many years have not elapsed since the far greater part of our public publications were so stuffed with bombast, so overloaded with multiplied unnecessary epithets, so gaudily bespangled with the false frippery of rhetoric, and so confounded with discordant images, and with illustrations which thickened the obscurity of the subject they were lugged in by the head and shoulders to elucidate, that those only could read them without pain who rejoiced to see the infirmity of the human mind officially busy in exposing itself to derision. That fulsome ambition to shine at the expense of common sense, and taste, was too often carried from our newspaper essays, paragraphs, election addresses and public panegyrics, into our political, and even ministerial compositions—and there have been state papers and legislative documents which might have been placed in reputable competition with the most florid oratory of the stump, or the most elaborately timid of those elegiac strains, which so constantly

"Like tall bulwarks lift their heads and lie" in the obituaries of our periodical journals. It is no longer so; at least to the same extent.—That independence of style, as Mr. John Randolph sarcastically denominated it, in which members of congress couched amendments and resolutions, seems to have in a great measure yielded a due submission to the laws of criticism—and even a vote of applause and approbation to a meritorious servant of the public is now often expressed in terms such as his delicacy may endure, and the reader of every description may understand without much consideration.

I believe the inimitable and amiable Jo. Dennie, was the first amongst us who, with any success, attempted to exercise this raving spirit—he was followed by several of congenial taste but inferior talents, whose efforts paved the way for the vast mass of instruction introduced into this country by the re-publication at New York of the Edinburgh and Quarterly Reviews—or rather the Quarterly and Edinburgh—because on which side soever the balance of superiority lies between these two productions in other respects which we do not presume to decide, in the point we are speaking about, namely, as style pure, unaffected, and perfectly classical, such as is fit for a model for a youth in oratorical training to imitate, the Quarterly is indisputably superior.

While this is our decided opinion, we offer to the attention of our readers, by way of reinforcement, an article from that stupendous work of science and literature, the Edinburgh Review; and we offer it with great pleasure, because, while from a variety of collateral circumstances its sentence must be undeniable and conclusive, it will help us to throw a barrier across the headlong course of injudicious admiration, in which many of our young countrymen, partly from political prepossession, partly from an enthusiasm in spurious eloquence, and partly from a generous and not duly measured or justly discriminating approbation of genius in whomsoever or in whatsoever shape it may be found, have run wild in admiration of inflated figurative orators, and particularly of Charles Phillips, esq. of Ireland. Whatever of favorable report Mr. Phillips could hope to derive from congeniality of political principles in a critic, he might reasonably have looked for from the Edinburgh Reviewers—their sentiments on that subject being radically the same as his—whatever partiality he could hope to meet from avowed admirers of his genius he had a right to expect from the same quarter—for they have uniformly acknowledged that; and in the article we now allude to set out with a direct recognition of it—"Mr. Phillips is a man of talents certainly." The sentence of condemnation of his style, therefore, coming from such a quarter, will hardly be encountered even by the most prejudiced admirers of that kind of oratory—national partiality itself, hot as it is upon that account, will be brought to a check, and a salutary lesson will be afforded to our youth, and a salutary restriction will be laid upon their fancies by a studious perusal of this most precious effusion of the Edinburgh critic. It will be found in that publication for November, 1817, (No. 57) page 32.

"Mr. Phillips," says the critic, "is a man of talents certainly; but he is not very docile, and has not a very correct taste, we fear, in more things than in style. It is now about two years since we called the attention of our readers to the attempts which were then made to obtain from the English public a confirmation of the partial judgment of his personal friends and Irish admirers. We referred reluctantly to the unworthy system of puffing which had been adopted for this purpose; we were extremely glad to be informed, soon after, that Mr. Phillips had no concern with it; although it was a little unlucky that the very letter in which he denied the charge was prefaced by a panegyric, which we rather think he could not have read without a blush in a room alone. On that occasion we expressed our anxious desire to prevent the importation of false eloquence from the country of Burke, Gifford, and Plunket; and did what we could to make the prohibition effectual, by pointing out the manifold vices in which it abounded. Nor were we without some hopes that the author himself might be reclaimed from the course in which the applause of the rabble, or of his equally unwelcome friends, were betraying him, and devote his talents to the cultivation of genuine eloquence, under the discipline of sound taste. The volume before us, however, gives us no reason to believe that this reformation is at hand; and we are very sorry for it. For, whatever he may think of it, we are sure that our admonitions proceeded from the most friendly feelings. What prepossession, indeed, could we entertain that was not favorable to Mr. Phillips? We highly approved of his political opinions, though a little exaggerated in the expression—we saw in him many of the highest qualities of an orator, but we perceived him to be surrounded by the worst of enemies—flatterers."

The reputation of the former (says the Reviewer in a note) has been beyond the reach of controversy or evil; but of the last it may not be unnecessary to say that we consider him as a model of chaste eloquence, reaching the highest perfection of the art, and free from every one of the faults to which his countrymen are so liable.

INDIAN MURDERS.
We have been politely favored by a gentleman in this place with the following unpleasant intelligence:—

Extract of a letter from Mr. Thos. Herbert, to his father in Jones county, dated Poplar Springs, Alabama territory, March 21.

"Yesterday Capt. Wm. Butler, Danl. Shaw and Wm. Gardner, all formerly of Jones county, Georgia, were killed by Indians. Capt. Saffold and others who were in company made their escape. Col. Dale with 50 men have come to our assistance; and there are 30 Choctaws and 17 regulars on their way. We expect them to-morrow. We have built a fort at this place which we have called 'Fort Dale.' The women, children and waggons have been sent to Fort Claiborne. Gov. Bibb has ordered out two companies of militia, one from Clarke and the other from Montgomery."

Another letter dated 31st of March, says—"The Indians have not committed any murders since my last. We have just returned from a scout which we extended to the furthest large prong of Conecote, there we turned down the stream and went about twenty miles, and were compelled to return in consequence of the want of provisions. We made no discoveries, except some small old Indian signs. Some Choctaws who went up the creek yesterday, discovered four Indians with their women and children, who, being upon their guard and near a large swamp, made their escape, leaving behind fifty deer skins, some cooking utensils and dried venison, all of which the Choctaws brought into fort to-day. We have just received information from the fort at Pine-Barren, that there were 8 Indians seen near there yesterday, who had stolen some corn from a Mr. Earnest and that reports of guns were heard in the neighborhood next morning. We are making preparation to pursue them.—Our force consists of 24 volunteers, 17 regulars, 20 Choctaws and 14 Creeks from Macnack's party. We shall drive them hence in a short time."

[Reflector.]

Latest from the army, via Singapore.—

We received intelligence from the army by last evening's mail as late as the 24th ult. Jackson, Gains, and Glasscock left Fort Scott on the 11th in order to meet some provisions that were on the way from New Orleans, and on the 14th met a supply sufficient, with which they immediately proceeded on to the Micksakee town; the forces consisting of a boat 500 regulars, 1000 militia, and several commands of Indians, amounting in the aggregate to about 2000. On the 26th, McIntosh's command of 775 Indian left Fort Scott to join Jackson, which it was supposed would be effected on the 28th, previous to the contemplated attack on the Micksakees. We may expect shortly to hear of some decisive blow being struck in that quarter.

[Chronicle.]

From the Richmond Compiler.

As every incident connected with our revolutionary history, is interesting to the great mass of the people; I shall solicit a niche in your paper to answer an inquiry in a late Compiler, concerning the surrender of the British army at Yorktown Virginia; and hope that your readers will experience the same pleasure in reading the account, that I enjoy in the narration:—

"At two o'clock in the evening, Oct. 19th, 1781, the British army, led by General O'Hara, marched out of its lines with colors cased, and drums beating a British march."

It will be seen in the sequel that O'Hara, and not Cornwallis, surrendered the British army to the Allied forces of France and America. In this affair, Lord Cornwallis seemed to have lost all his former magnanimity and firmness of character,—he sunk beneath the pressure of his misfortunes, and for a moment gave his soul up to chagrin and horror.

The road through which they marched was lined with spectators, French and American. On one side the commander-in-chief, surrounded by his suite and the American staff, took his station; on the other side opposite to him, was the Count de Rochambeau, in like manner attended. The captive army approached, moving slowly in column with grace and precision.

Universal silence was observed amidst the vast concourse, and the utmost decency prevailed: exhibiting in demonstration an awful scene of the vicissitudes of human life, mingled with commiseration for the unhappy. The head of the column approached the commander-in-chief—O'Hara, mistaking the circle, turned to that on his left for the purpose of paying his respects to the commander-in-chief, and requesting further orders; when quickly discovering his error, with embarrassment in his countenance, he flew across the road, and advancing up to Washington, asked pardon for his mistake, apologized for the absence of Lord Cornwallis, and begged to know his further pleasure.

The General feeling his embarrassment, relieved it by referring him with much politeness to General Lincoln for his government. Returning to the head of the column, it again moved under the guidance of Lincoln to the field selected for the conclusion of the ceremony.

Every eye was turned, searching for the British commander-in-chief, anxious to look at that man heretofore so much their dread. All were disappointed.

Cornwallis held himself back from the humiliating scene, ob-ying sensations which his great character ought to have resisted. He had been and remained not from any false step or deficiency of exertion on his part, but from the insatiable policy of his superior, and the united power of his enemy brought to bear upon him alone. There was nothing with which he could reproach himself; there was nothing with which he could reproach his brave and faithful army; why not then appear at its head in the day of misfortune, as he had always done in the day of triumph?

The British general in this instance deviated from his usual line of conduct, dimming the splendor of his long and brilliant career.

Thus ended the important co-operation of the allied forces. Great was the joy diffused throughout our infant empire.

I cannot end this interesting detail as recorded by Henry Lee, without giving you his panegyric on the Father of his country.

This wide acclaim of joy and of confidence, as rare as sincere, sprung not only from the conviction that our signal success would bring in its train the blessings of peace, so wanted by our wasted country, and from the splendor with which it encircled our national name, but from the endearing reflection that the mighty exploit had been achieved by our beloved Washington. We had seen him struggling throughout the war with inferior force against the best troops of England, assisted by her powerful navy; surrounded by difficulties, oppressed by want; never dismayed, never appalled, never despairing of the commonwealth.

We have seen him renouncing his fame as a soldier, his safety as a man; in his unalloyed love of country, weakening his own immediate force to strengthen that of his lieutenants; submitting with equanimity to his own consequent inability to act, and rejoicing in their triumphs, became best calculated to uphold the great cause entrusted to his care; at length by one great and final exploit under the benign influence of Providence, lifted to the pinnacle of glory, the rewards of his toils, his sufferings, his patience, his heroism, and his virtue. Woe be it man! rendering it difficult, his conduct throughout life to decide whether he most excelled in goodness or greatness."

"When I trace the heroes of seventy-six through all their countless difficulties, and hardships—when I behold all the difficulties and plots which encompassed them, their hair breadth escapes, and finally glorious triumphs—I am strongly impressed with the belief that our cause was guided by Heaven; as the Moses and the Israelites were directed by the finger of God through the wilderness."

Gazette Office April 24.
LATEST FROM ENGLAND.
We have only room to say, that the quick ship Mercury, captain Kae, which arrived here yesterday, sailed from Liverpool after two previous unsuccessful attempts, on the 26th ultimo. The editors of the Gazette have received a variety of papers and lists, in which they find what follows. [The market for cotton rather better—other articles held their own, and sales steady.]

Price of flour at the London Corn Exchange, March 18.—Town made flour 7s to 80s per sack. Price of wheaten bread, 14d the quartern loaf.

Liverpool, March 25.

Considerable sales in wheat have been made at an advance of 3s a bushel. Foreign wheat 12 to 14-3d; flour 58 to 60. At London wheat was 3s higher than last week.

4000 bbls American flour were sold at Liverpool on the 24th March at 55s.

The Building Committee of St. Paul's Church do not intend to enter into a public dispute with the carpenter—how they have dismissed, but they think it their duty to correct his misrepresentations by stating the following facts:

1. The committee have paid this man the sum of 4,335 dollars, making an average of more than 105 dollars per week; whereas, by contract, they were not bound to pay him more than 60 dollars per week.

The public will decide if this is not a larger sum than is usually advanced on such an amount of work.

2. It is not true that he left the building of his own accord—he was dismissed by the committee in a formal manner in presence of witnesses. So far from his leaving the work voluntarily, he begged in the most humble manner to be forgiven and received again; but he had so long continued to violate the contract in every particular, that the committee could not consistently with their duty, receive him from the ground they had taken.

He will continue to deny these facts, they shall be proved, and his conduct shall be reported in detail.

For Sale.

That very valuable FARM whereon I now reside, containing 628 acres, lying in the county of Fauquier, and State of Va. near the county road leading from Fauquier Court House to Dumfries, about ten miles from the former and twenty from the latter; about thirty from Falmouth, thirty-five from Alexandria, and six from the Buckland Mills; from whence there is a paved road to Alexandria. Any person wishing to vest their money in this kind of property, will find it their interest to call and view this property. There is a large supply of timber conveniently situated, lying at each end of the Farm. There is now a small meadow on it, which produces very abundant crops of grass; there is fifty acres more adjoining, which is equally adapted to the growth of Timothy; the clover has been tried here with great success, without the aid of plaster, which has never been applied, but from experiments which have been made on the adjoining farms, it is ascertained that plaster acts with as much power here as in any other part of the state. This property is well situated to divide, and may be divided to suit purchasers, which would make two farms of 314 acres each, as it may be so divided by running a line from North to South, as to give each lot a full supply of timber; the improvements of one lot are, a comfortable dwelling house with five rooms and a large closet, a portion on one side and a porch on the other two brick and one stone chimneys, a kitchen and smoke house; with other necessary out houses; a well of excellent water in the yard; also, a young apple orchard, containing 110 trees of choice fruit of different kinds. The other lot has a house with four rooms and a passage, which with a trifling expense may be made very comfortable; a well of excellent water in the yard, and an extensive apple orchard of bearing trees, forward and latter fruit of various kinds. I consider this orchard worth $300 per year. It is deemed unnecessary to say more, as it is presumable, that persons wishing to purchase, will view the premises and judge for themselves. If this property is not disposed of at private sale previous to the 20th day of May next; which would be preferred, it will on that day be exposed to public sale—the sale to commence at 11 o'clock, if fair; if not, the next fair day—terms made known on the day of sale, which will be easy. Any persons wishing to view this property, can be shown to by the subscriber, living on it. After the sale of the above property, all my stock of cattle, sheep, and hogs; household and kitchen furniture, all of excellent quality; plantation utensils, &c. &c.

French Creek Boarding School.

The following is published for the information of Parents:—

HAVING long believed that a School in many respects, would be beneficial to society, and apprehending that, with all its cares, and the responsibility inseparable from such a concern, I could more cheerfully devote my time to the education of children than to any other business, I have concluded to establish a BOARDING SCHOOL FOR GIRLS. With this view I have purchased the FRENCH CREEK FARM, four miles east of the yellow springs, on the Norristown and Philadelphia road, situated in Pike and Vincent townships, Chester county, twenty-seven miles from Philadelphia, combining many conveniences for the support of such an institution; and having let the farm, etc. in a way calculated to supply the family with provisions, I propose to devote my attention, with the aid of suitable assistants, to the education of the children who may be placed under my care.

In selecting the pupils, it is not proposed to be governed entirely by their ages, nor to require that they shall all be members of the religious society of Friends; but as the school rules will be very few, and number and very simple, it is my wish that none may be sent contrary to their own inclination, nor any one who would not be likely to be good examples to the other scholars, and treat them with kindness and affection.

The price for board and tuition will be two hundred Dollars per annum, one quarter always to be paid in advance—no restrictions respecting the kind of clothing are intended, nor respecting the frequency of the changes that parents may require; the washing will be charged at the ordinary price per dozen—children may be admitted for one quarter only, and such as are entered for a longer period, may nevertheless be removed at the expiration of any quarter. The communication with Philadelphia will be frequent and easy by stage, and a house of entertainment kept by the farmer for the accommodation of persons having business at the school.

Reading, Writing, Arithmetic, English Grammar, Geography and the use of Maps and globes, will be taught, together with such other branches as the progress of the children and experience may render expedient. The school to open the first of the 5th month next. For further information apply to Edward Stabler, Alexandria, or to EMMOR KIMBER. 2d mo. 21 St

Fan-Sash Making.

METAL FAN-SASHES, of various descriptions, will be made by the subscriber, at his shop, lower end of Duke street. The want of a Metal Fan-Sash Manufactory in Alexandria, has hitherto been severely felt by builders and others, who have been compelled to make use of wood, which is neither elegant nor durable. The various forms into which the metal can be shaped have given it a decided superiority, and the difference in the price is very trifling. The subscriber has been at considerable expense in procuring the necessary preparations, and relies on public enterprise for success in the undertaking.

Gentlemen in the country, by sending the dimensions of their sashes, can have them made at the same price as in town. JAMES T. HOLLAND. February 19

Valuable Family Medicines.

JUST received, direct from the proprietors, the following valuable MEDICINES, all of which have been in use for a number of years past, in almost every part of the United States; have been highly patronized by people of the first respectability; and approved by those who have had occasion to make use of them, for the cure of those disorders for which they are severally calculated. Dr. Lee's Genuine (Windham) Bilious Pills,

Universally known and used throughout the United States as a family medicine. one of these labels, with these words on the sides: "Lee's Genuine Windham Bilious Pills," and on the end of the label the words, "Samuel Lee, patentee, &c. L. Thompson, agent, joint proprietor." &c. and should any be offered for sale without said label on them, the purchaser may be assured that they are counterfeit.

James Kennedy & Son, RESPECTFULLY inform the public that they have just received from LEE'S MEDICINE STORE, No. 46, Maiden lane, New-York a fresh supply of the following valuable MEDICINES:

Hamilton's Worm destroying Lozenges. Which have within sixteen years past cured an immense number of persons of both sexes of every age and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from WORMS, and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of as operating with violence; on the contrary a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent & is so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old should no worms exist in the body; but will without pain or gripping cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humors and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.

Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known.

Worms which infect the human body are chiefly of four kinds viz.—The Terebrator or large round worm; the Ascarides or small maw-worm; the Cucurbitine or short flat white worm; and lastly, the Tænia or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious; purging with slimy and fetid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; pains in the head and thighs and looseness of spirits; slow fever with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent "the vomiting and purging of children"—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

The Restorative Powder for the Teeth and Gums.

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS and MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended HAHN'S ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS. THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age. They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold it taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Hamilton's Elixir. A sovereign remedy for colds, obstinate coughs, asthmas, sore throats, catarrhs, and approaching consumptions. To persons who have children afflicted with the HOOPING COUGH, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorders to which children are liable. The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

Hamilton's Grand Restorative. Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of Nervous Disorders, Consumptions, Violent cramps in the stomach and back, Lowness of spirits, Indigestion, Loss of appetite, Melancholy, Impurity of blood, Gout in the stomach, Hysterical affection, Pains in the limbs, Inward weaknesses, Relaxations, etc.

Hamilton's Essence and Extract of Mustard. A safe and effectual remedy for acute and chronic rheumatism, gout, rheumatic gout, palay, lumbago, numbness, white swellings, chilblains, sprains, bruises, pain in the face and neck, etc. etc.

Lee's Ointment for the Itch. Warranted an infallible remedy at one application, may be used with perfect safety by pregnant women, or on infants a week old, not containing a particle of mercury or any dangerous ingredient whatever, and not accompanied with that tormenting smart which attends the application of other remedies.

Hahn's true & genuine German Corn Plaster. An infallible remedy for corns, speedily removing their root and branch, without giving any pain.

The Genuine Persian Lotion. So celebrated among the fashionable throughout Europe, is an invaluable cosmetic, perfectly innocent and safe, free from corrosive and repellant minerals, the basis of other lotions, and of unparalleled efficacy in removing blemishes of the face and skin, freckles, pimples, inflammatory redness, scurfs, tetter, ring-worms, sunburns, prickly heat, &c.

Hahn's genuine Eye Water. A sovereign remedy for all diseases of the eyes, whether the effect of nature weakness or of accident.

Tooth Ache Drops. The only remedy yet discovered which gives immediate and lasting relief in the most severe instances.

Lee's Infallible Ague and Fever Drops. For the cure of agues, remittent and intermittent fevers.

At the place of sale pamphlets may be had gratis, describing cures performed by the above medicines; the number, importance and respectability of which, fully justify every article of this advertisement.
